What are the varying forms of delivery?

This program is being delivered through GC Flex. View the GC Flex ebook

What is GC Flex?

A GC Flex course means faculty deliver lectures and labs in the classroom and simultaneously online. You can choose to attend class:

- on campus, in person
- online at the same time (virtual class)
- online at your convenience – you choose when you want to watch the lectures (asynchronous)

Students wanting to study online asynchronously – PLEASE NOTE – because these courses are delivered in 3 different methods, the course you register into will show a day and time – if you choose to study asynchronously, you are not required to attend live classes, either virtually or on-campus.

How do I know which courses to take?

We have set a schedule up for you – review the Delivery Schedule posted on the program page: <https://www.georgiancollege.ca/academics/part-time-studies/programs/food-and-nutrition-management-fdm/>

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Students are prepared to manage a food services department while adhering to professional standards, quality management programs, nutritional and healthy living principles and marketing and promotional activities. In addition, graduates are able to employ a number of more complex functions supporting organizational effectiveness including supporting the design of food and nutrition human resource plan, financial analysis and control, and collaborating in the preparation of an organization's business plan or client care plan. Students apply research competencies to the assessment, analysis and problem solving with regard to nutritional needs and diagnoses.
